

Preparation

A study abroad stay does take considerable planning and organisation, even after you finally arrive at the destination of your choice. Settling down and getting accustomed to a new culture also takes time.

Our internationally experienced staff is committed to providing guidance and support throughout the planning stages as well as during your stay at Offenburg University, making the transition a lot easier.

We look forward to getting to know you and hope to welcome you at Offenburg University soon!